

John Philip Scholarship for the Study of Spanish Art

The Centro de Estudios Europa Hispánica (CEEH) and the School of Art History at the University of St Andrews are delighted to announce the creation of the John Phillip Doctoral Scholarship in Spanish Art and Visual Culture, to start in September 2020. This scholarship is available to both Home/EU and Overseas candidates and is tenable for three years. Fully funded by the CEEH, it covers tuition fees, plus an annual stipend of £15,285 for living expenses, and an annual research allowance of £5,000.

Research projects that focus on the history of Spanish art and visual culture between ca. 1600 and 1700 would be particularly welcome. Proposals devoted to the reception of seventeenth-century Spanish art in later periods, up to ca. 1900, will also be considered.

The University of St Andrews invites applications via its online process until Monday 25 May 2020:
